

New Kensington Arts Center

Writing Workshop

Published author, Bill Kemp, will guide this informal group in discussions relating to creative writing for fun and publication. These initial gathering will be free.

Bill will bring a short presentation to each meeting and then lead the group in discussions and exercises relating to creative writing. He will tailor the curriculum to meet the needs of the participants.

Topics may include writing your story (memoir), opportunities in non-fiction, the challenge of word choice in poetry, plot development in fiction, self-publishing, and writing the query or proposal that will land your book with an agent or publisher.

Writing Workshops will be scheduled from 7:00 to 8:30 PM on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at the New Kensington Arts Center, 950 5th Ave, New Kensington.

Send inquiries to: info@NKArtsCenter.org